

Welcome to The Perfect Candidate Twitter Terms of Use. Our Twitter page is intended for thoughtful and intelligent discussion and we welcome lively debate and a variety of opinions.

Terms of Use

This page sets out the terms of use of this website. By using this website, you accept all of its terms (including these Terms of Use and the Privacy Policy). A reference in these Terms of Use to 'we', 'us' or 'our' means Australian Futures Project Limited.

We reserve the right to update or amend these Terms of Use at any time. You should check this page from time to time to make sure you are aware of any changes.

You acknowledge that we may conduct competitions via this website and that any such competition will be governed by separate terms and conditions in addition to these Terms of Use.

Website content

The content provided by us on this website is provided for your information only. You may only use the content for your own personal purposes, and may not otherwise use, copy, reproduce, modify, publish, transmit or repost the content without our prior written consent. If we provide consent for you to use content from the website for purposes other than your own personal purposes, you agree that where any such content is referenced as being provided by Roy Morgan or another third party, you will attribute that data to Roy Morgan or the other third party.

We use reasonable endeavours to ensure that the information we include on this website is accurate and up-to-date. But we cannot guarantee the accuracy, currency or completeness of the information provided and we accept no responsibility for errors in the content at any time. We do not guarantee that use of our website will be uninterrupted or error-free, or that materials accessible on or through the website will be free from errors, viruses, worms or other harmful codes. To the extent permitted by law, all liability is excluded for any loss (including indirect loss), damages or injury resulting from your access to (or inability to access) or use of this website, or as a consequence of any content or information obtained from or through this website.

Except with the prior written consent from Australian Futures Project Limited, you must not reproduce, lease, loan, reverse engineer or decompile any software or services, sell, modify, adapt, create any derivative works based on, any part of or all of this website or any material or content communicated on this website.

This website includes trade marks which are protected by law. You may not use our trade marks in Australia or internationally without our prior written consent, except to legitimately identify our products or services.

You may link to this website provided you do so in a way that accurately indicates that the link is to a Australian Futures Project Limited website and is not misleading.

Third party sites

This website may contain links or references to third party sites. We are not responsible or liable for the content of those sites and your access to and use of those sites is at your own risk. Any links are provided for convenience only, and do not indicate any endorsement or recommendation by us.

Misuse of website

You agree to only use this website in accordance with its terms and applicable laws. You may be held personally liable for any unlawful use of this website. You also agree to indemnify Australian Futures Project Limited, its personnel, advisors, agents and contractors and their respective personnel, agents and contractors, from and against all losses, claims and expenses arising from or in connection with: (i) any claim (including alleged claim) that any materials or content that you have made available or created through this website infringes the rights of any third party including intellectual property rights (including moral rights); or (ii) you breached these terms of use.

If you think any content on this website is inappropriate or unlawful or infringes your rights, please contact us at admin@australianfutures.org

Conduct

This page is intended for thoughtful and intelligent discussion and we welcome lively debate and a variety of opinions.

All users of Twitter have the right to remove unwanted content posted by others on their page, and we reserve the right to moderate comments or remove any comments including those that we consider to be:

- Personally attacking another commenter or any other person
- Persistently misrepresenting our content. While we welcome criticism and feedback, personal attacks or continual and repeated criticism of our content will be removed
- Shouting – that means comments continually written in ALL CAPS
- Commercial content, financial advice, advertising or spam
- Containing expletives, or images or videos containing nudity, sexual acts or excessive violence
- Defamatory, discriminatory, inflammatory, inappropriate, abusive, insulting, obscene, offensive, pornographic, vulgar, profane, indecent or otherwise unlawful
- Are prejudicial towards matters that are before the court
- Racially or religiously vilifying any person, or inciting hatred or violence, or likely to insult, offend or humiliate others based on race, religion, ethnicity, gender, age, sexual orientation or any physical or mental disability
- False, misleading or deceptive
- Completely off topic or repetitive content
- Linking to unrelated personal blogs or websites. Links to other news stories or websites relevant to the discussion will be allowed

Users who undertake any behaviour we deem to be inappropriate or repeatedly breach these Terms of Use will be blocked. If you have any concerns about content posted on this page, please contact us via a Twitter message or email us at admin@australianfutures.org.

Permission and consent

Before uploading any content or materials onto our Twitter page, you must first obtain full permission and/or consent (as appropriate) from all subjects, authors and owners of the content and materials (including for any images or videos). While we welcome contributions to our Twitter page, to the full extent permitted by law, we do not endorse the content of those contributions nor are we responsible for any opinion, information, advice or statements made by third parties including any omissions or errors in the postings, images, or links embedded in the materials).

Privacy

Any personal information collected by us through your use of this website will be dealt with in accordance with our Privacy Policy.

Any material you transmit to this website (including any comments, posts, images and videos) will be treated as non-proprietary and non-confidential.

Terms of Use – The Perfect Candidate and Facebook

We have also terms of use for our The Perfect Candidate and Facebook websites – please see here for our The Perfect Candidate Terms of Use and here for our Facebook Terms of Use.

Governing law

The terms of this website will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws in force in New South Wales, and you unconditionally submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of New South Wales. Although Australian websites may be accessed outside of Australia, we make no representation that the content complies with the laws of any other country. If you access this website from outside Australia, you are solely responsible for ensuring compliance with your local laws and for any reliance on our website content.
